1. Introduction and Acknowledgments

This report will provide direction for Quantin Binnah Community Centre Inc. (QB) for the next 5 years. Planning commenced in March 2021 to prepare for the development of this strategic plan which included a combination of consultations, workshops, surveys, SWOT analysis and research of demographic data, community needs and priorities. All these elements have been combined and distilled in this report.

I would like to acknowledge QB's Board, the leadership Team, the staff and our community members for their valued input and involvement in this process.

As part of the strategic plan development process we also reviewed our vision, mission, values and philosophy. These concepts are said to be an organisations corner stone that guide all decision making for the future. In summary, the vision is QB's aspiration; the mission is 'the description of the what, the how, the why and for who' and the values are QB's ethics underpinning these choices.

We hope that our framework communicates our organisations service intensions authentically to all our community participants, staff members, partners and stakeholders and that our public statements hold QB accountable for our service delivery.

This Strategic plan is not meant to be a static document. We anticipate this document may change as new circumstances arise, both internally and externally. This is a dynamic document that details QB's overarching framework, outlines QB's present situation, provides a model of QB's future strategic priorities and will be used in conjunction with the operational and business plans.

QB's operational plan will encompass how each of the strategic priorities will be actioned, when and by whom. Our QB business plan will outline QB's budget and resources which will enable the operations to be realized.

Our team at QB have worked hard to create a robust, inclusive community organisation that focuses on education and social impact within the community of Wyndham City. This strategic plan outlines a clear way forward for not only the next five years but well into the future.

In conclusion, I would like to acknowledge Mary from Protean Thinking consultancy who QB engaged in June 2021. Protean Thinking came recommended by a colleague in the community services sector. Mary from Protean Thinking has a true sense of the challenges and strengths of the sector. Mary was not only able to work to combine and effectively distill all of the information that was provided to support the development of this report, but she was able to genuinely listen and make sense of all the information that was provided during our COVID restrictions.

2. Executive Summary

Achievement of 2019 – 2021 Strategic Objectives

Our 2019 – 2021 strategic plan had identified our Vision to be: “An engaging community education centre that contributed to the resources of the community”

An analysis of QB’s impact on this vision and the attainment of the achievement of the established strategic objectives over the past 3 years has revealed that despite the impact of the Coronavirus pandemic since the beginning of 2020, QB has been successfully working towards achieving our vision and in the main we have achieved our strategic objectives.

Strategic Objective One: An engaged and aware community

Over the 3 years we have been able to establish fit for purpose working groups to support the implementation of the plan. This has included but not been limited to:

1. The development of working and project groups to roll out our new brand and new website and a range of HR, WHS and risk management strategies.
2. The increased use of technology to support engagement with all our stakeholders.
3. Providing regular communication throughout the pandemic with all internal and external stakeholders.
4. Enhancing customer service and support for each individual visitor, parent and centre user.

Strategic Objective Two: Accessible activities and programs reflecting our diverse community

In addition, during 2019 – 2021 we have undertaken work to further understand our target audience. This has been undertaken primarily through our email communication and surveys and incidental testimonials. This objective been difficult to achieve due to the pandemic and the limitations this has created and some challenges we have had in our community development department as a result. However, we have a new community development worker who has commenced and whose key objective will be to create greater connection with our community and the increase accessibility to a range of new programs we hope to introduce to QB.

Our data indicates our centre users in the children’s services are from diverse cultural backgrounds and age groups including up to 25 different nationalities. In addition, our staff are also from a range of diverse cultural backgrounds. We hope we will be able to increase our reach into a broader and older demographic within our community through our plans to expand our community development activities when restrictions change.

Strategic Objective Three: We are skilled and sustainable

The need to enhance our human resource capacity was identified as an area of improvement in the 2019 – 2021 Strategic Plan. To support this process a HR project was developed and a specialist consultant was employed in August 2020. As a result, all the staff have had their position descriptions and contracts reviewed and rolled out and these are also reviewed 4 times annually as part of a systematic HR audit. This 1/4ly audit ensures any changes in staff awards and changes to legislation are applied where appropriate. In addition, we have designed and implemented a systematic formal annual performance appraisal process and conducted a training needs analysis. Further work will be undertaken on the development of an overall QB training plan.

In addition, we have been continually analyzing any relevant funding stream throughout the COVID pandemic and our skilled finance team have enabled us to successfully apply for a number of COVID grants. In addition, we are investigating the role out of the 2022 funded 3 yr. old kindergarten program in our area and the opportunities this may bring to QB and Woodville Childcare Centre.

Furthermore, the community development team have applied successfully for a number of grants to increase our service offerings to the community.

Strategic Objective Four: Grow QB Café

Café QB had been running at a significant loss over the period of 2019 – 2021 and prior to this reporting period. At the commencement of the new leadership team in 2020, a range of options were considered to increase the viability of the café. However, with the onset of the pandemic a decision was made to close the café as none of the strategies considered would have prevented the continuing significant financial loss to the organisation.

A project will soon commence to create an options paper to present a range of options for the café to have a social purpose in line with the QB values and to ensure financial sustainability.

Financial Overview

The financial health of QBCC has been a focus over the 2019 – 2021 strategic plan. In the main, the focus has been on effective financial management. This has included applying for any additional pandemic grants, over-viewing and reviewing service contracts and reducing any duplication of suppliers, implementing clear line reporting and financial delegation and approval, introducing effective budgeting, introducing enhanced stock control, reduction of waste, effective rostering of staff to manage in the changing climate of the pandemic, and making business decisions to cease programs where high cost has out stripped income.

In addition, we have significantly increased our monitoring of debt management through the development of the debt management working group and we have undertaken significant work to prevent parent fees debt accumulation. This has also enhanced the overall understanding of the importance of financial monitoring and has increased the knowledge of financial reporting across the organisation.

Keys to QB Success

The keys to QB's success in the years 2019 – 2021 has been the new leadership team which commenced at the start of 2020, an existing skilled and highly collaborative administration and finance team who embraced and provided exceptional support to the new leadership team, the systematic review of all systems and implementation of new processes including ensuring all compliance requirements were centrally articulated and achieved, and a workforce who are aligned with the QB mission and who were willing to embrace the changes that were required to make QB a viable organisation.

6. Financial Statements and Summary

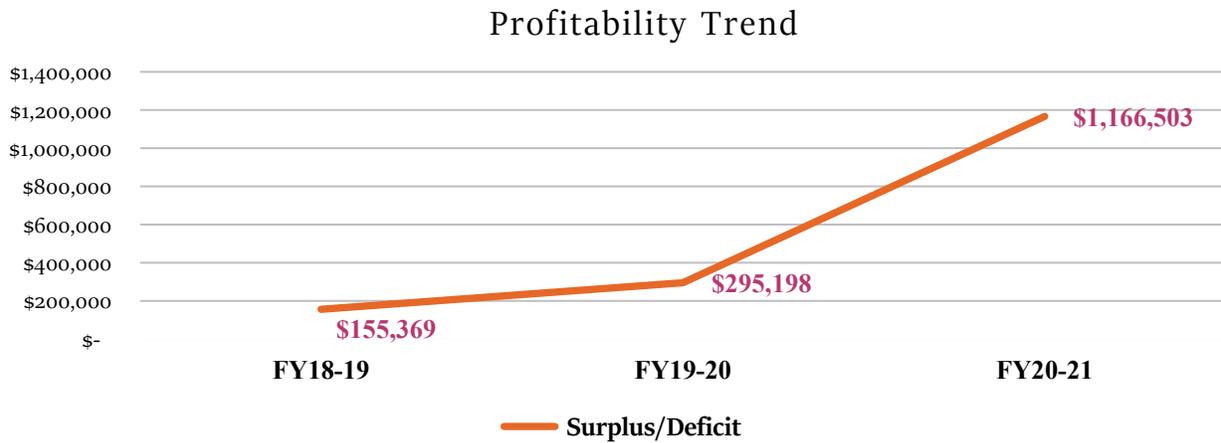

1. Financial Health Check

A high-level review of the financials of Quantin Binnah was undertaken with the results for the previous three years captured below:

1.1. 2019-2021 Profit and Loss ($'000)

1.2. 2019-2021 Profitability Trend

1.3. 2019-2021 Balance Sheet ($'000)

1.4 Key Financial Ratios

There are various ways to represent the financial viability and financial health of an organisation or company. (Banks usually rely on audit firms and external accountants to give a picture of these matters).

QB has used four ratios to help give guidance about our financial health:

- » Working Capital Ratio: A ratio of more than 2 presents a strong short-term liquidity, revealing that QB can pay its current liabilities

Financial Year	FY18-19	FY19-20	FY20-21
Current Assets	$ 1,688,790	$ 1,623,764	$ 2,652,054
Current Liabilities	$ 1,099,363	$ 816,789	$ 666,317
Working capital Ratio	1.5:1	2:1	4:1

- » Days Cash on hand: This measures the number of days on which expenses can be covered from existing cash and cash equivalents. The Months of spending ratio represents a longer planning horizon since it assumes receivables can be collected to sustain operations. Both ratios indicate a strong liquidity position. QB has sufficient cash to meet organisational expenses as they fall due.

Financial Year	FY18-19	FY19-20	FY20-21
Days Cash on hand	87	71	197
Months of Spending	2.9	2.3	6.5

- » Operating Ratio: This expresses the annual surplus of revenues over expenses. The increase in contribution revenue over the last three years has led to the surplus saving indicator.

- » Profitability trending: this has increased significantly over the last three years. It indicates high financial sustainability and the maintenance/expansion of high-quality building and services.

1.5 Results

The financial health check ratios indicate that QB has strong financial sustainability. High growth in equity over the last three years underpins the organisation's future financial independence and viability. This is a key goal for all community organisations.

7. SWOT Analysis
